

INTRODUCING a new booklet for PATIENTS and FAMILIES!

Quality of Life Matters® When Facing a Life-Limiting Illness

By Judy Lentz, RN, MSN, NHA

an educational service of Written by Judy Lentz, HPNA Chief Executive Officer, this unique booklet is an ideal way to educate patients and families about the choices available to them when facing a life-limiting illness. The booklet explains that:

- Palliative Care, or "Pal Care," provides them with the most compassionate care possible, just like they would expect from their best pal.
- The power of choice is theirs each step of the way during their illness, putting them in control of decisions that can maximize their quality of life.
- Patients have important rights that ensure their quality of life, all of which are fostered by the Pal Care Team.
- Members of the Pal Care Team can become their trusted advocates, and nurses play a central role in this comprehensive care.
- Nurses can help patients develop a plan of care, which includes putting their wishes in writing through advance directives.
- The Pal Care Team will be there for them throughout their journey, especially at decision points such as at time of diagnosis; when the disease flares up, possibly requiring hospitalization; and during the final phase of illness.
- The Pal Care Team works closely with the Hospice Care Team, bringing comfort to their final months, weeks, and days, and providing grief support to loved ones.
